THE PORTER CASE.

BECAUSE GEORGE E. PORTER could not or would not rule his own spirit a quarrel that might have been only a small family tiff has ended in the death of one who took part. Porter is in jail and may be tried on a charge of murder. His father-in-law, Benjamin R. Haddock, is dead. For a real or a fancied grievance Porter began a quarrel with his wife early Monday night. One witness said the trouble was started over so trivial a matter as the question as to whether or not the kitchen chimney would draw.

One took the position that it would; The quarrel waxed warmer and warmarm, he promptly grappled with her sentatives $5,000.

antagonist was very much his inferior but it is really not reasonable, especialfought the old man as he would have fought a stranger who came to disrupt his home. Soon Haddock quit struggling. Porter released him and he staggered, half-conscious, to his home. There he died within an hour. It may be that the injuries inflicted by Porter were not sufficient in themselves to died Monday night.

There is a lesson in this broken home. under all circumstances. The man who loses his fight, one way as the saying goes. What is true of the loses his fight, one way as the saying goes. WARREN MISSES VOCATION.

SENATOR WARREN of Wyoming has missed his vocation. Instead of occupying a seat in the United States senate he should be on the minstage. Judging from one of his recent performances in the senate he servants are paid by the government hilarity of the occasion.

He walked over to Tiliman and, without attracting the attention of the salary has never yet kept a man cut South Carolinian, withdrew from one of the presidency, it is also true that of the Tillman pockets a bottle of the the nation should not be niggardly with half-pint variety. It was perfectly apparent that the bottle was used for medicine of some sort, for it was not medicine of some sort, for it was not medicine of some sort, for it was not the cabinet because they could not afmodeled on the lines of a whisky flask. ford to take the places, but such in-that didn't jar Warren, however. All of which will be very edifying to Senator Warren's constituents and to the country at large.

The executive mansion may have been spoiled by the architect who had charge of the alterations there, but we hardly think the country will experi ence any difficulty in finding some gentleman willing to live in it as long as the country will have him there.

A California man has produced a potate with a red interior. If that sort of thing keeps up it may not be long before we are able to squeeze the traditional blood out of the equally traditional turnip.

THE TOWN OF BINGHAM

NOW BINGHAM HAS STEPPED out of dresses and into trousers. First thing we know poor old Mother Salt Lake county won't have any babies at gil. The children are grow ng up. Not so very long ago Murray graduated into trousers and red-toppe boots with all the trimmings that go with lusty youth. Bingham is the last. And though Bingham is only two days old as an incorporated town, though she has not as yet had a chance to try her wings, as it were, she has made start that augurs well for her future

(Park City Record.)
Salt Lake would like to be a great city, and ought to be but it will never be unless it succeeds in getting an administration that will pull together, and harmonless it succeeds in setting an administration that will pull together, and harmoniously work for good government and the upbuilding and advancement of the metropolis, casting aside petry polities, petry spites and general damfoolishness. The same condition exists down there now under the new administration that has existed for years past, viz. The mayor and council pulling in opposite directions, keeping municipal affairs in a constant turmoil and retarding husiness, to the utter disgust of all fair-minded and progressive citizens. Park City does not pretend to be as great and mighty as the saintly metropoils, but its rolons could learn much by taking a trip to out movest burg and note with what harmony and magnanimity our Republicans and Democratic councilmen work for the general good of their constituents. It might have a tendency to make the Sait Lakers ashamed of themselves, and result in giving the denizens of Zion what they are eutitled to-fair, honest and progressive government. Try it.
